

Antler Workshop & Gallery Publishes a Children's Book

Kurt Gordon of Antler Workshop & Gallery completed a life size bull elk statue made entirely of antler in 2009. It is located in front of the gallery in Dubois, Wy.

Recently Kurt and Lyn published a children's book "The Bull Elk Named Sue" a delightful story of building Sue and Sue's first year of adventure in Dubois. The book is available now in the gallery or can be ordered:

Price is $12.95 (Wyoming residents: add 4% sales tax)
$2.50 shipping

8 1/2 x 11, Perfect Bound, 40 page children's book with 17 color illustration.

This book is about art, imagination, creativity and vision. It also is a snap shot of a year in a very small Western Town "Where cowboys work and play". Dubois, Wyoming is nestled in the Wind River Valley a Gateway to Yellowstone and Teton National Park.
